SPEAKER SAYS GOD WILL END IT

convention were enlisting young men as comrades of the Peace Movement. Today they are being enlisted in the training camps to shoot our German brother Endeavorers. We think back to those great conventions when British and German alike were all singing, "Beat Be The Tie That Binds," but today those words are no more and have given their lives in defense of the principles which they upheld. What does all this mean? It is not for us to ask at this time what caused the war or what the results will be, for the hour has come for every one to do his duty. The average man will only consider this question in the light of the ordinary citizen, but to my mind, war has a double responsibility to a Christian; he must view it both from the angle as a citizen of his country and a citizen of the Kingdom.

"This union represents many different denominations. We all pray to the same God. The same God rules over the ancestors of all. We are a cosmopolitan people. We are of the blood of all nations that are at war. However, we have many conscientious Endeavorers in this state who have been framed in a different respect to war as Christians. As I look over the ranks of Union officers today I find several have left and others will go. Never before must such a question be decided so definitely as now. Of course, first of all, we are all Americans. We all wish to be patriotic. Patriotism has taken more forms in expressing itself these days than ever before. We will be called patriots or traitors. Armed neutrality is a term already forgotten. Someone recently said that he feared the Americans would not make good soldiers because 'we did not feel enough indignation.' What he meant to say was we did not hate our enemies sufficiently. In fact, is that not in a way a tribute?"

"Pray For Our Enemies Who Hate Us."

President Gilliom concluded his message to the convention with the advice that their meetings be marked by a lofty spirit of devotion and that they devote the last five minutes of the prayer period each time for "special sincere prayer for all our boys in actual service, also at the same time pray for our enemies who hate us." He suggested that a Relief Department be organized to keep close record on the Endeavorers who enlist that the ones who honor might serve letters of good cheer and send literature.

"Keep the home fires burning till the boys come home," was the president's instruction, followed by the slogan: "More business for the King—yes, even more than usual."

Rev. C. H. Winders of Indianapolis, this morning gave the first of his lectures of personal work. How personal work has saved souls this morning could not reach and is the right arm of the church, was brought forth by the Indianapolis pastor in his talk on "Why Do Personal Work?"

EAST CHICAGO

GIRL MARRIES

HAMMOND MAN

Interesting in Hammond and East Chicago social circles is the wedding of Miss Dottie Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dixon to Charles Eugene Griswold which took place Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church of East Chicago. The ceremony was followed by a brilliant wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents which was attended by one hundred guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. G. Jones and in the bridal party were Miss Esther Dixon who served her sister as maid of honor, Miss Carrie Rose, Miss Florence Cadman and Miss Mabel Thomas bridesmaids, and little Miss Lucile Mason, the flower girl. Louis Otto served as best man and the ushers were Edward Dixon, Ray Cadman and George Mansell. The bridal music was played by Miss Josephine Mason, pianist, and Mrs. Edward Houser, violinist, who also accompanied Miss Williams who sang very sweetly, "At Dawning" and "O Promise Me."

The bridal gown was a beautiful one of white duchess satin with over drape of georgette crepe headed with pearls. She wore a tulle veil held to her hair with a pearl ornament and her flowers were a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was gown in pale pink georgette crepe and silver lace and she carried sweetheart roses. The bridesmaids wore pretty frocks of white net over pink silk and carried pink rose buds. The little flower girl's frock was of white net and she carried a basket of pink roses.

The wedding colors of white and pink were carried out very beautifully in the decoration of the Dixon home in South Magon avenue, the scene of the reception. In the parlors, showers of roses fell from the chandeliers and in the dining room the flowers were pink killarney roses. With ropes of smilax they were used to decorate the table. The collation was served by Section 2 of the Social Union of the Methodist church under the direction of Mrs. O. C. Brandenburg. Mr. and Mrs. Griswold left during the evening for Detroit, Niagara Falls and Buffalo where they will remain for two weeks.
